

VIBRIONICS does not interfere with prescribed medication. In general, taking Vibrionics pills in conjunction with prescription medicine can speed up the cure compared to prescription medicine alone. Vibrionics pills are totally harmless and without side effects. Continue to take the remedy until you are fully recovered and the dosage can then be slowly reduced over a long period of time. The period of reduction may be about a third of the time taken to heal. If the remedy is stopped suddenly after you are better, the disease may come back. Many patients prefer to continue a low dosage of the remedy as a preventative measure for a long time.

These Vibrations can be given in water (to children and animals), in ethyl alcohol or in vibhuti. One drop of this vibrated liquid is added to the sugar pills, shaken and given accordingly twice or thrice a day.

PRECAUTIONS

Do not keep the pills near TV, computer, mobile phones, microwave or any electronic gadget with a strong magnetic field since the radiation from these instruments tend to neutralise the vibrations contained in the pills.

Do not eat or drink anything except water for at least 20 mins before and after taking the pills.

Do try to drink 2-3 litres of pure water per day to wash out the toxins released by the consumption of pills unless not indicated by your prescribed medication.

LOVE IS THE BASIS OF ALL HEALING

The most important ingredient in healing is Love. Love prevails when we see God in everyone. Love is unity with everyone. In Universal Consciousness, we are one, we are all connected. Life is a treasure and it is given to us to serve others. When we serve others, we serve ourselves. Baba says 'Start the day with love, fill the day with love, spend the day with love, and end the day with love'.

WHAT IS VIBRIONICS?

The modern technology and the galloping advancement in the field of medicine has been a big boon to humanity at large. Life and the human body have yet remained a mystery. One group of researchers gave a third dimension to this search and came out with this therapy of Vibrations.

From the turn of the 20th century many researchers set out to discover and to define fundamental vibrations of life for everything that exists i.e. human body parts, basic elements, vitamins, proteins, amino acids, minerals, salts etc. In the Vedas it has been said that the world came into existence with OMKAR, a sound vibration. Similarly, diseases have their own vibrating frequencies.

Vibrionics simply means healing by means of a suitable vibration such as that which cannot in general be seen, felt or heard. Each substance, be it animate or inanimate, exhibits a unique vibration which comprises a radiation and a radiance. Radiation is an energy field that is physical and hence it can be observed, defined, analysed and quantified.

This radiation is a combination of heat, light, electromagnetic forces etc, and can be measured using Kirilian photography and more recently by using highly sensitive micro electro voltmeters. Radiation thus represents the material aspects of this field.

Incidentally, radiance is nothing but the Universal Consciousness which also penetrates the physical body and that is precisely the reason why all humans function in the same way.

Each member of a family of similar things depicts a common characteristic i.e. a similar energy pattern and this is so because they are characterised by a similar shape or forms; hence different forms will have different energy patterns.

Taking the example of a healthy internal human organ, let us say the liver will display an identical vibration or the same energy pattern, no matter which human this liver is taken from provided it is 100% healthy. This important discovery is in fact the key to vibration healing. If a diseased liver is analysed however, its vibration will be different from that of the healthy one. By administering suitable healing vibration to a patient, it is possible to correct the distorted energy pattern and bring the diseased physical liver into a healthy state. This in essence is the basis of how vibration healing works.

The fact is that it is not the administered healthy vibration which is responsible for the cure but it is the memory of the vibration of the healthy organ, the natural healing power resident in the organ which effects the cure. The healthy vibration simply acts as a catalyst to awaken that healing power. Any illness, however it is cured, is likely to return if the person does not change to a healthy life-style.

MIND - THE ROOT CAUSE OF ILLNESSES

Sathya Sai Baba says the origin or root cause of an illness lies in the mind. As mind is nothing but a bundle of thoughts, the implication is that the quality of our thoughts is important. Information from a negative thought goes into the subconscious mind and surfaces as unhappiness or illness. On the other hand, when the mind is occupied with thanking God, forgiving and forgetting the mistakes of others, being cheerful, grateful and contented, we live a lifestyle that radiates goodness and in turn keeps us healthy. Once our mind is purified, no illness can touch us. However, this is a long term process during which we may be afflicted with disease; so we must consider the best way to treat our bodies.
